Communities Across New Brunswick Participating in Climate Change Day of Action

The Climate Change Day of Action has engaged many New Brunswickers and moved them to action this weekend. A number of communities and citizens' groups are concerned about climate change and the governments' response to the issue. Events are planned in five communities across the province. For details on actions in specific communities, see below or visit <http://www.nben.ca/change/>.

The International Day of Action on Climate Change will be held on December 6, 2008. Around the world, communities will host demonstrations and other events to call on world leaders to take urgent action on climate change. These actions will coincide with the international climate talks in Poznan, Poland, December 1-12, 2008.
